

WABASH CENTER

For Teaching and Learning in Theology and Religion

A Summer of Inspiration: Nature and Creativity

Ralph Basui Watkins, Columbia Theological Seminary

Blog Series: Re/Kindling Creativity and Imagination

May 17, 2021

Tags: Book proposal | Jamal Jordan | Photography | Outdoors | Summer Writing |
Theology of Inclusion

As a writer and a teacher I am always looking for ways to inspire my creativity. This summer I have committed to a practice of getting out in nature. I will be visiting national parks, state parks and doing some cabin stays. The goal is to incorporate the sounds and sights of nature as I seek times of solitude, stillness and quiet as keys to my inspiration. The first such trip this summer was to The Getaway two hours north of Atlanta, with a stop by Chattahoochee-Oconee National Forest. The video below shares my experience. My hope and prayer is that you might be inspired to find the practice of being in nature, solitude, stillness and silence as a means to fuel your creativity as a teaching professor.

Photo 1: CHATTAHOOCHEE-OCONEE NATIONAL FOREST @RALPH BASUI WATKINS

Photo 2: THE GETAWAY @RALPH BASUI WATKINS

<https://wabash.center/2021/05/a-summer-of-inspiration-nature-and-creativity/>